

US BLACK CHAMBERS, INC
THE NATIONAL VOICE OF BLACK BUSINESS

USBC Women of Power List

[March 24, 2022] WASHINGTON, DC – U.S. Black Chambers Inc. (USBC), the nation's largest network of African-American chambers of commerce, today announced its Women of Power List for 2022. The list is composed of influential women who are making a significant impact in entrepreneurship, leadership and in their communities. USBC's Women of Power List recognizes women who have made an indelible mark on business and society. The honorees were recognized at the USBC Women of Power Luncheon, which took place March 24th at the AT&T Forum in Washington, DC. The Women's HERStory event hosted 60 special invited in-person guests with over 250 virtual attendees, who heard from guest speakers Nicole Cober, Natalie Cofield, Taylor Thomas, Jotaka Eaddy and USBC President Ron Busby.

An impressive group of women who exemplify influence, impact and innovation in their respective fields, we introduce USBC 2022 Women of Power:

Judge Ketanji Brown Jackson	Denita Conway, Proven Management
Adjoa Asamoah, Founding Principal, ABA Consulting	Donna Brazile, AAA CDFI CEOs
Tanya Lombard, VP Global External & Public Affairs, AT&T	Dr. Ayris Scales, CEO Walker's Legacy
Georgette "GiGi" Dixon, Wells Fargo	Talisha Bekavac, EVP USBC
Nicole Parker, CEO Elocen Group	Alicea Gay, USBC
Chanelle Hardy, Head of Civil Rights, Google	Candace Waterman, CEO Women Impacting Public Policy (WIPP)
Isabella Casillas Guzman, Administration SBA	Lisa Smith, Bowie BIC
Natalie Cofield, Assistant Administrator SBA	Jetheda Hernandez, MBDA
Jotaka Eaddy, Full Circle Strategies	Nakita Chambers, MBDA
Nicole Cober, Founder, The BOW Collective	Renee Johnson, Public Private Strategies
Michele Thornton-Chee, CEO Ebony Magazine	Robin R. Haynes, Goldman Sachs
Edna Robinson, SBA	Deborah Caviness, Southern CT Black Chamber, SBA CNPP Spoke
Shakenna Williams, Executive Director Babson College CWEL	Camille Carter, Madison Black Chamber, SBA CNPP Spoke
Sonserae Cicero, CEO SHEBA Consulting	Danyel Surrency-Jones, CEO POWERHANDZ
Bridget Gagne, CEO Gagne Associates	Melissa Bradley, CEO 1863 Ventures
Aimee Griffith-Joyner, The Griffin Firm, Life & Legacy Counselors	Chrishon Lampley, CEO Love Cork Screw

Aimee Griffith-Joyner, The Griffin Firm, Life & Legacy Counselors	Chrishon Lampley, CEO Love Cork Screw
Susan Vanderbilt, Nashville Black Chamber of Commerce	Sheena Collier, CEO Boston White Black
Veta Jeffrey, Heartland/St. Louis Chamber of Commerce	Janine Fondon, CEO UnityFirst Direct
Kelisha Garrett, Louisiana Chamber of Commerce Foundation	Andrea Anderson, CEO Signature Group
Debra Keller-Chase, Greater Baltimore Black Chamber – SBA CNPP Spoke	Leah D. Daughtry – Principal, On These Things, LLC
Regina Hairston, African American Chamber of PA, NJ, DE – SBA CNPP Spoke	Minyon Moore – Principal, Dewey Square Group
Tanisha Gary, African American Chamber of Central FL, SBA CNPP Spoke	Yolanda H. Caraway – Founder, The Caraway Group
Cathy Adams, Oakland African American Chamber of Commerce, SBA CNPP Spoke	Cameka Smith – Founder & CEO, The BOSS Network
Angela Gibson-Shaw, Greater Los Angeles African American Chamber, SBA CNPP Spoke	Lauren Wesley Wilson – Founder, ColorComm
Theresa Carson, African American Greater Albuquerque Chamber, SBA CNPP Spoke	Lauren Maillan – CEO, DigitalUndivided
	Shameka Godely, Founding Principal SGodley Architects
	Krissy Moore – Senior Vice President & Community Relations Northeast Sr. Manager

The list honors 50 Women of Power who are making a significant difference in the areas of business, higher education, technology, finance, entertainment, politics and public service, law enforcement, sports and media.